

Donnelly Budget Is Slashed

Bills Introduced Cut More Than 26 Million From Recommendations

By George Sitterley

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 19.—(P)—Deep slashes in the recommendations of Gov. Phil M. Donnelly were apparent in bills introduced today allotting a total of $157,183,306 for operating the state government during the coming fiscal year.

The bills carve more than $26,000,000 from the governor's recommended appropriations with much of the cut in allotments to state offices and departments under the governor. Shortly after the governor submitted his budget to the Republican controlled legislature, the Democratic chief executive was favoring too high allotments to agencies administered by Democrats.

Republican house leaders said they would offer the bills on a single year basis because they intended to hold sessions both this year and next.

No Office Building Allotment

None of the eight bills introduced today contained any allotment for a new office building although the governor urged an appropriation of $2,000,000 for such a structure in Jefferson City to ease government congestion in existing state buildings.

Rep. Lewis N. Wallace (R) of Buchanan county, appropriations chairman, who drafted the series of measures, said it was possible the money would be put into an omnibus bill he intends to offer later.

Also in such a bill would be re-appropriation of postwar reserve funds for construction of dormitories of state schools. The money was appropriated last session but must be re-appropriated if not spent before the fiscal year ends June 30.

Will Increase Balance
The reduction from the governor's recommendations would further increase the $16,338,730 balance in general revenue which he said he expected by July 1, 1949 on the basis of his recommendations and his estimate of revenues during the coming two years.

Wallace did not say how much he expected to be left in general revenue at the end of the year on the basis of his bills.

They would allot $94,524,834 for state offices and certain departments, including $76,125,000 to the state highway department for repair, maintenance and construction of highways and $6,072,550 to the rambling new revenue department. $32,853,400 would go to the big health and welfare department.

Missouri schools regularly get one-third the state's general revenue, which Donnelly estimated would be $52,990,597 during the fiscal year beginning July 1. Under the bills $38,522,600 would go toward operating correctional and eleemosynary institutions and $6,432,960 toward the university, the five state colleges and other institutions of higher learning.

Plans Not Perfected
None of the legislature's plans for modernizing state hospitals and training schools and for aiding public education were re-elected in the bills today. Wallace said special committees first must investigate, report their findings and draft bills to improve the institutions before the money can be allotted.

An indication of the cuts the appropriation chairman recommended for some state departments in the allotment to the attorney general.

That office, whose present Democratic head, J. E. Taylor of Chillicothe, has had several collisions with Republican legislators, would get only $166,300 or $16,000 less than for the current year and far below the $446,000 the governor recommended for the next two years.

Hoped for Higher Salaries

The increase suggested by the governor was intended to permit the attorney general to pay higher salaries to his staff of assistants who now can receive no more than $3,500 a year. Taylor has declared the heavy increase in work for his department and increased cost of living make an appropriation hike necessary.

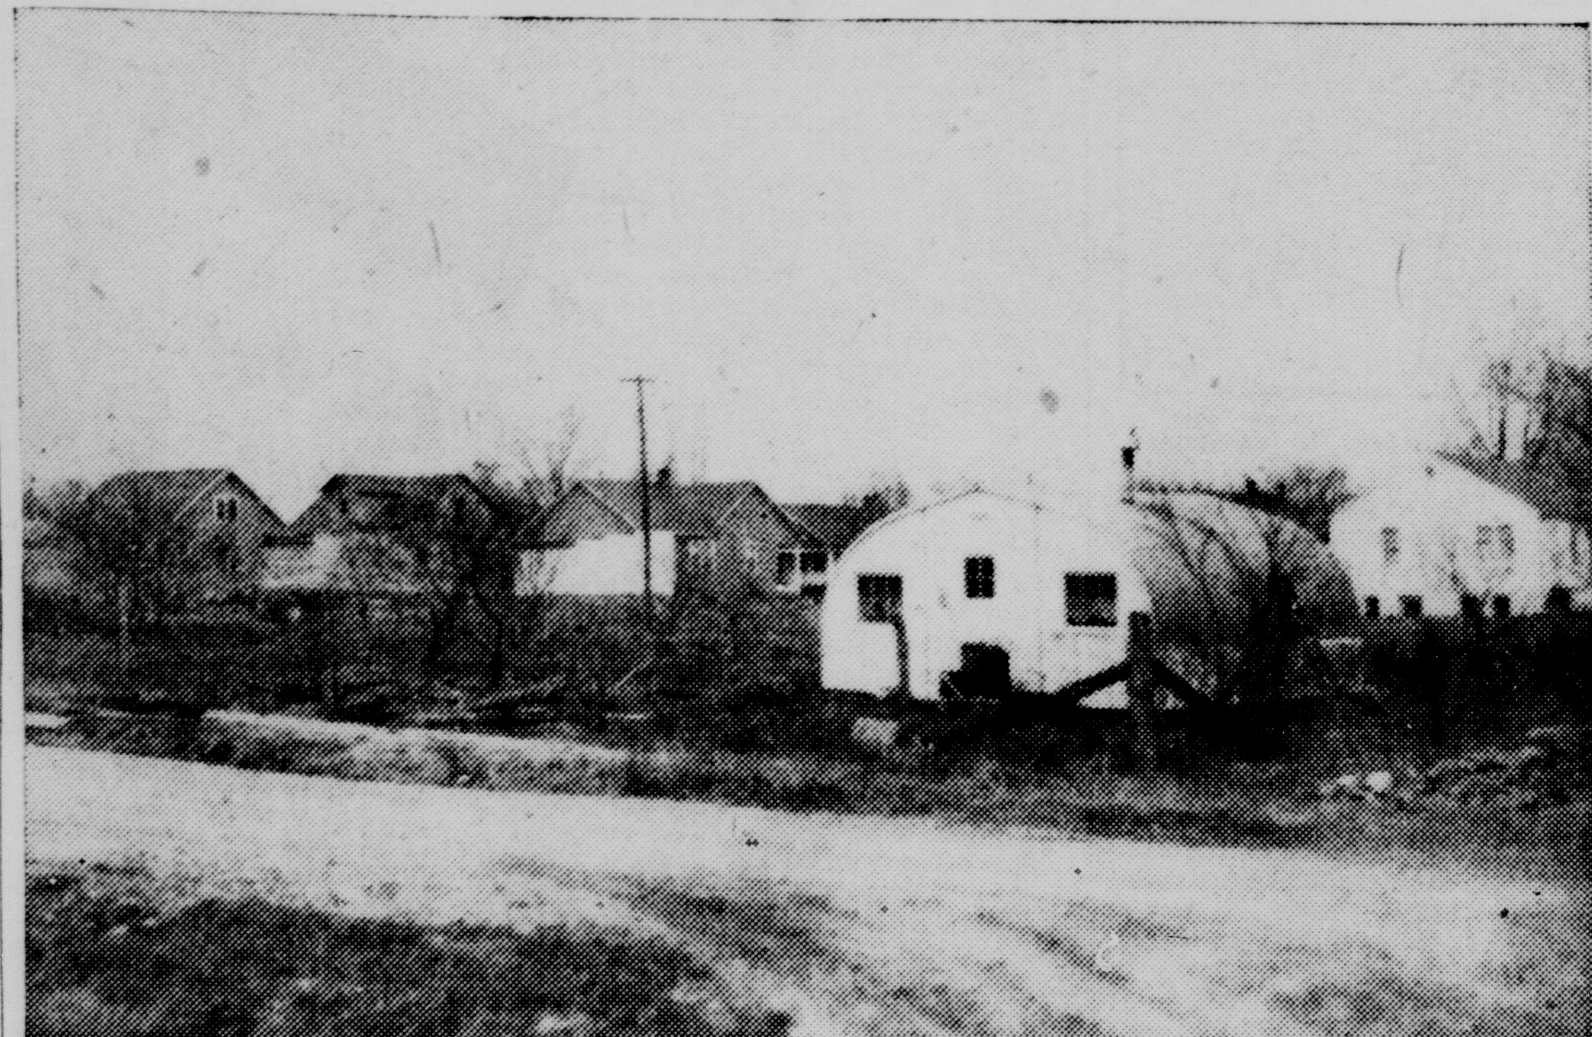

The military department, directly under the governor, also would take a sharp cut. The governor recommended an appropriation for two years of $933,240 but one of the bills today set the allotment at $280,000 for the coming year.

Wallace said hearings on all the bills would be conducted during a house recess of two or three weeks. The recess is expected to begin this weekend.

Britain Criticized

LONDON, Feb. 19.—(P)—Britain's decision to refer the Palestine problem to the United Nations without recommendation and her refusal to step up Jewish immigration into the Holy Land drew criticism today from some labor party members of the House of Commons.

Small Prefabricated Housing Unit

An unfortunate chain of circumstances led to the setting up of one of the first pre-fabricated units in Sedalia (foreground). It is on the north east corner of Eleventh street and Marvin avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Worledge were required to move a few months ago when the home in which they had been living at 1400 South Stewart avenue was sold. Unable to locate a house, they and their three young children were forced to set up house-keeping in a barn at Twenty-Fourth street and Ohio avenue.

The barn proved to be an unsuitable residence because of the cold and many other factors. The lack of warmth caused the three small children to become sick with colds. Finally, in desperation, Worledge began seeking a house again.

A friend of Worledge, whose home in the country had burned and now was living in a pre-fabricated house, referred him to the Montgomery Ward store where he purchased it. The brooder house did not seem convenient to Worledge, but a hog and poultry pre-fabricated unit struck him as being practicable, at least for the present time.

The house was ordered and finally arrived early in January. Two days later the house was put together by Mr. and Mrs. Worledge without any assistance.

Two other houses have already been constructed in the same block and more are being built. The white home at 726 East Tenth street (to the extreme right in background) is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Renfro who designed the house and drew up their own plans. They were assisted in building it by Renfro's father, George Renfro, 1318 South Engineer avenue.

The other three homes (to the extreme left in background) are being built by Ernest Benz. The first one to the left has been finished and Mr. and Mrs. Benz reside in it. The other two houses are scheduled to be completed in the near future.

Bill to Curtail Direct Relief Is Introduced

With Reference to Unemployables and Dependent Children

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 19.—(P)—Direct relief for Missouri's unemployables would be cut almost in half during the next fiscal year under a bill introduced today by House Appropriations Chairman Lewis H. Wallace (R) of Buchanan county.

During the current fiscal year, state aid to Missourians who cannot work was set at $3,750,000. But the appropriation bill for next year slashes the amount to $2,000,000, although Gov. Phil M. Donnelly recommended a two-year allotment of $7,000,000.

Aid to dependent children also would be curtailed under the bill. The governor recommended allotment of $7,000,000 for a two-year period, but the bill calls for $3,000,000 in aid to children during the coming year.

Would Curtail Aid

Old age assistance funds were set at the amount the Governor recommended, $20,000,000 a year. That was the amount set aside for aid to indigent aged this year.

The bill also cuts deeply into the division's administration fund. It would give the division $1,500,000, the same as for this year, but a cut of $250,000 from the amount recommended by the Governor. Federal funds pay a part of the cost of administering the state's huge welfare program.

Federal Matches State

The state division of welfare had asked for a two-year appropriation from the state funds of $46,160,131 for old age assistance. $9,261,476 for aid to dependent children and $15,864,000 for direct relief. The federal government more than matches state money in providing old age assistance and aid to dependent children, but puts up no money for direct relief.

Pensions for Missouri's blind were set at $1,116,000 in the bill, the same amount recommended by the Governor. Administration of the blind pension fund would be provided in a $100,000 appropriation.

The bill calls for $98,000 to operate the Federal Soldiers' Home at St. James and $25,500 to operate the Confederate home at Higginsville.

Baby Spurns Mother, Turns to One Charged as Kidnaper

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 19.—(P)—Baby Bonnie Waltman, back in his mother's arms for the first time in eight months, spurned his weeping mother today and cried instead for the woman who is accused of kidnapping him.

The child's mother, Mrs. Virginia Mavis Waltman, 26, arrived here today from Neosho, Mo., after a two-day automobile trip with O. C. Schweitzer, Newton county, Mo., deputy sheriff.

She had come to claim her 14-month-old child whom she charges was kidnapped last July by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Humbarger, Connellsville Rd., Toledo. Neosho Police Chief Fred Ratliff met his townsman in Toledo.

After a tearful reunion the group started the 800-mile trip back to Missouri.

Mrs. Waltman, who came to Toledo empty handed, sat in the rear seat of the sheriff's automobile, holding the baby on her lap. The crying infant paid no heed to its mother's attempt to soothe, and instead reached his arms towards Mrs. Humbarger who sat next to Mrs. Waltman. Humbarger, handcuffed, also sat in the back seat, trying to reconcile the two glaring women.

Asked whether she intended to press the kidnapping charges, Mrs. Waltman replied, "All I'm interested in is getting the baby back. I don't care what happens to Bob and Betty."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Humbarger clung to her claim that the baby had been given her and her soldier husband.

Watching Mrs. Waltman nestle the child to her shoulder, the Toledo foster mother vowed: "I'll do everything I can to get Bonnie back—even if it takes 60,000 years."

82-Year-Old Prospector Is Making Call on Congress

By Arthur L. Edson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—An 82-year-old prospector is in town to give Congress his annual laydown on how it can save the country.

F. E. Gimlet of Salida, Colo., says this nation has:

Too few gold and silver coins. He told a reporter today he thinks it's high time Congress did something about it.

Gimlet wears a flowing beard, jeans tucked into 29-year-old boots, red flannel underwear, a new blue work shirt, a badly battered hat, and a cheerful air that makes him look about half his age.

He sat on yesterday's session of the Senate Labor committee.

"Those labor leaders," he complained, knocking the ashes out of his homemade pipe. "They keep talking about the gains labor has made. Son, they gained—but at whose expense?"

"Are the Rockefellers any poorer?"

Itching To Answer

"No, organized labor gained at the expense of fellows like me—unorganized labor. Oh, I'm itching to get a chance to answer those fellows."

He may get that chance today. Senator Ball (R-Minn.), has told him he'll see what can be done.

This is Gimlet's eighth trip to Washington, and each time senators and representatives have listened to what he had to say.

They haven't acted on his recommendations yet, but Gimlet isn't disheartened.

As soon as he gets the Senate Labor committee straightened out, he hopes to give the Senate Banking committee a few monetary pointers.

Value Decreased

"Look at this silver dollar," he said. "Used to be worth a dollar. Now it's worth eight cents."

"I make $600 a year. With the dollar at eight cents, it really is only $48 a year. Without gold and silver, we've lost our real money, son."

Even though he hasn't got rich prospecting, Gimlet still thinks it's a fine business.

"It's the only honest gambling game," he said. "You can make a million dollars, and never take a dime off your fellow man."

"You can't do that in any other business in the world, son."

May Resume Production

LONDON, Feb. 19.—(P)—Prime Minister Attlee said today that factory production in the Midlands, industrial heart of England, probably could be resumed Monday after a two-week shutdown caused by the unprecedented coal shortage.

Attlee announced, however, that the island-wide restrictions on the use of electricity by domestic and other non-industrial consumers would have to be continued for an unstated period. Five hour switch-offs of electricity are currently enforced under wartime regulations providing for fines and prison sentences.

The prime minister's nine man "coal cabinet" reported encouraging gains last night in coal supplies at power generating stations.

Allotment for The State Fair

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 19.—(P)—An appropriation bill introduced in the House of Representatives today would allot $284,500 to the State Department of Agriculture for this year's state fair. The appropriation would include $84,500 from state funds and $200,000 from fair earnings. The governor recommended allotment of $170,000 from general revenue and $350,000 from fair earnings for the 1947 and 1948 fairs. For last year's fair the legislature appropriated a total of $252,000.

Wage Hikes for State Agencies

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 19.—(P)—Handsome salary increases for the heads of two state agencies were approved by the Missouri senate today as it advanced two bills to position for passage.

One would designate the commissioners of the Public Service Commission and their general counsel as a publications commission to codify PSC reports. Commissioners' pay, unchanged since 1913, would be increased from $5,500 to $8,500 a year and the general counsel's from $4,500 to $7,500.

An effort by Sen. Michael Kinney (D) of St. Louis to limit the increases to $2,000 was defeated after Sen. M. C. Matthes (R) of Hillsboro, sponsor of the bill, noted that the PSC controls utilities which comprise ten percent of the state's total valuation. He said the commissioners' salaries are far below other states.

Also approved for passage was a bill to boost agricultural commissioner Tom R. Douglas from $3,000 to $7,500 a year. The senate defeated an attempt by Kinney yesterday to limit the increase to $6,000.

Travel Note

TOKYO, Feb. 19.—(P)—The perils of commuting in interurban trains, as reported by the Tokyo press:

A Japanese commuter braced himself for the sudden station stop. The effort broke his ersatz belt. He was packed so tightly he couldn't get his hands down to catch his falling pants.

Someone's foot caught in the pants and dragged them away. The train started up to the excited wailing in Japanese: "Who's got my pants?"

Twisted Metal Scattered Over Mountain

Twenty-five Now Dead, 141 Injured In Train Wreck

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 19.—(P)—A heap of twisted metal scattered over a desolate mountain side was all that remained today of the Pennsylvania railroad's flyer, the "Red Arrow," which yesterday plunged over a 150-foot embankment killing 25 persons and injuring 141 others.

An investigation of the wreck, one of the worst in railroad history, was started by the interstate commerce commission, the Pennsylvania public utility commission and the railroad.

Five of the dead were still unidentified, two of the bodies mangled beyond recognition.

The dead included 16 passengers, six railway mail clerks and three members of the crew—an engineer and two firemen—which manned the twin locomotives in the train's tortuous climb over the Allegheny mountains.

Many Critical

Many of the injured lay in critical condition at Altoona's two hospitals, some expected to die.

Nobody knew what caused the 14-car passenger train, en route from Detroit to New York, suddenly to leave the rails as it headed into Bennington curve, two miles west of the famed "Horseshoe curve," in the pre-dawn darkness.

Its sleeping passengers, jarred awake to death and pain and disaster, incoherently described only a "series of bumps" before the grinding crash of disintegrating steel.

The train, running 50 minutes late, was gaining velocity on a down grade as it merged from the Gallitzin tunnel into the parabola of Bennington curve. A railroad spokesman said the speed limit around the horseshoe curve is 19 MPH.

Five Cars Into Gully

Five cars toppled into the gully with the locomotives which lay on their sides, half buried in packed snow and the fill which the railroad uses on its snake-like roadbed. A mail car, a combination baggage-passenger, day coach and two sleepers were sprawled in the wild gully below.

A diner and two sleepers were derailed and tossed on their sides. Another sleeper teetered perilously, half over the edge of the slope. The other sleepers were derailed and three cars remained on the tracks.

Rescue workers, forced to descend the steep slope with the aid of ropes, used acetylene torches to cut the bodies from coffins of twisted broken steel.

The tracks were cleared early last night and east and west-bound traffic was proceeding normally.

Still Working On Draft Law

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—The White House said today that President Truman still is working on the problem of what to do about the soon expiring draft law.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters Mr. Truman has not decided what recommendation he will make to congress. The president said at a news conference last week that he would send the legislators a message on the subject within a few days.

Members of the house armed services committee said today conversations with military leaders have convinced them there will be no request for extension of the draft law.

Instead, they said in private interviews, the army and navy soon will launch an "all out" drive on Capitol Hill for universal military training.

Dictates Will As He Hangs Upside Down

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 19.—(P)—Postal Clerk G. C. Bowman of Tyrone, Pa., hung by his feet, upside down, for eight hours and 26 minutes before being cut out of the wrecked mail coach of the Red Arrow yesterday.

While rescue crews burned away at steel with acetylene torches to free him, he dictated a will to a postal inspector.

Last night he died in Altoona hospital.

Conscious all the while he was trapped, Bowman directed rescuers in their frantic efforts to release him. He gave postal inspectors the names of the other mail clerks in the car, including his brother, Holland L. Bowman of Mechanicsburg, Pa., who was killed.

Six of the ten clerks in the mail coach were killed and the rest injured. Postal inspector H. W. Glenn described the wreck as the "worst in the history of the service."

An Important Statement Is Expected

On Indian Freedom In Commons by Attlee Thursday

LONDON, Feb. 19.—(P)—Authoritative sources said today that Lord Wavell will be called home soon from his post as Viceroy of India and that Prime Minister Attlee will make an historic statement on Indian freedom in the House of Commons tomorrow.

The disclosures stimulated speculation that the British government might be preparing to withdraw from India and to announce a plan for the sub-continent's complete independence, perhaps within a year.

One informant said British evacuation "within a stated period" was not out of the question.

The British cabinet's decision to bring Wavell home, these informants said, came as a result of the new constitutional crisis in India. They declined to say whether he would be returning to India.

A government source said a special news conference for United States correspondents was being arranged to take place immediately after Attlee made his statement.

Apparently Important

The British seldom arrange such specialized news conferences unless the occasion is considered of great importance.

Attlee's statement will be accompanied by publication of a white paper.

The latest Indian crisis has followed persistent Moslem league refusal to participate in the constituent assembly. British officials said the crisis "threatens" the breakup of the viceroy's interim government.

No Intention of Quitting

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, congress leader, recently wrote to Wavell asserting that the continued presence in the Indian cabinet of five Moslem league members was incompatible with the Moslem refusal to join the constituent assembly, the informant stated.

The five Moslem cabinet ministers thereupon said they had no intention of vacating their offices.

Wavell appealed to the British government for a directive, it was explained here, and the cabinet held a series of meetings last week and this week to consider the deadlock.

Last week Nehru sent Wavell a second letter, calling for an early reply from the London government.

Coming to Tell Of Sewerage

W. Scott Johnson, director of the environmental sanitation division of the Missouri State Health department, will be in Sedalia on Monday, February 24, to meet with the Round Table Council of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Johnson will discuss a sewerage survey report made at a recent Round Table meeting by a representative of the Burns and McDonnell Engineering Co., of Kansas City.

The engineering company representative, who had been employed by the prior city administration to make a survey of the sewerage conditions in Sedalia, and retained to continue the work under the present city administration, told members of the Round Table Council of the findings of the men who made the survey.

Mr. Johnson will therefore tell of conditions as they have been found by the state board of health. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Shoe Plant Fund Near

ELDON, Mo., Feb. 19.—Plans are progressing here for a factory of the International Shoe company of St. Louis and much of the $80,000 to be contributed by this community has been raised. The cost of the project will be $130,000 and the remainder of the funds will be supplied by the company. About 300 persons will be employed.

Ask For An Early War End

Truman Proposes Only 12 of More Than 100 Emergency Acts be Permanent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—President Truman today asked Congress for legislation to make possible "an early ending" of the state of national emergency under which the country has lived since 1939.

Mr. Truman asked outright repeal of 24 laws, proposed that emergency operations under 36 permanent statutes be suspended, and recommended that most of 200 defense appropriation measures be wiped out.

The 36 laws in Mr. Truman's second group of recommendations are permanent legislation, but come into force only during emergencies. The President announced he has asked every agency head to discontinue "at the earliest possible moment, and in any event not later than March 15, 1947," the use of such powers.

Mr. Truman proposed that only 12 of "more than 100" emergency acts still on the books be extended by permanent legislation.

Ten others would remain in force for six months after the actual proclamation ending the emergency, whenever it may come, or for some other stated period.

May End By July

"The progress of reconversion now makes it possible to take an additional step toward freeing our economy of wartime controls," Mr. Truman said in his message to Congress.

Ten White House advisors have indicated to newsmen that if Congress acts with reasonable dispatch, the emergency may be terminated by July.

The proclamation would cover both the "limited" emergency proclaimed Sept. 8, 1939, and the "full" emergency declared May 27, 1941.

Mr. Truman proposed immediate repeal of laws authorizing employment of men from industry as dollar-a-year-men in government; the leasing of merchant ships to other nations

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—There wasn't a dull moment when the house-senate budget committee met behind closed doors last Friday to approve that $6,000,000,000 slash in government spending. At one point in the secret debate, Democratic Senator Alben Barkley flatly accused GOP leaders of star chamber tactics in drafting the budget report.

"Most of us have had no chance to declare our views," the Kentuckian asserted angrily. "The house spokesmen have been meeting separately behind closed doors. Now you want to bring in your findings and expect us to agree to them without question. This whole issue has been handled in a very arbitrary fashion, which I disapprove."

GOP Representative Everett Dirksen of Illinois replied that the separate meetings of house members were necessary, due to lack of time.

"We had very little time in which to get out this report," argued Dirksen. "And some senators weren't always available when we wanted to hold meetings. However, I am sure that all members of the senate appropriations committee, Democrats as well as Republicans, have had plenty of opportunity to express themselves."

At another time, Barkley objected to being shut off by GOP Representative John Taber of New York, who presided, while Barkley was discussing military spending. Taber retorted that Barkley himself had urged the application of house procedure rules at the meeting.

"I am, therefore, limiting everybody who wants to make a speech to five minutes, so all members can have their say," grinned Taber.

Barkley sat down without joining in the laughter.

The Army's Friends
However, not all the wrangling followed party lines. In fact, during most of the meeting, the Republicans were battling among themselves.

Military-minded Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota, chairman of the armed forces committee, who opposed the $1,750,000,000 budget cut for the army and navy, clashed repeatedly with Dirksen and other house GOPers.

"Our first consideration is security," declared Gurney, demanding that the over-all budget reduction should be $4,500,000,000 with only token cuts in army-navy spending. "With world conditions unsettled as they are, this is no time to curtail our armed services. It might be disastrous."

GOP Senators Taft of Ohio and Milliken of Colorado joined in this view, though later both voted for the $6,000,000,000 report. Democratic Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri, who charged that the $6,000,000,000 figure had been "arbitrarily fixed," was against the figure from start to finish and in the end voted against the report.

"Let's have a breakdown of these overall figures, so we can know where the specific cuts are to be made," demanded Cannon. "There isn't time for that," explained Dirksen. "We'd be here until Christmas if we attempted to itemize everything. All members have their sacred cows—the state department, flood control, rivers and harbors or something else. If we had to break down the report into a thousand and one items, it would take too much time and cause endless debate."

Army Gave Secret Figures

"We arrived at our conclusions after talking to the best men we could find, a number of them pretty high up in the war and navy departments," explained Dirksen. "Also, we drew on the knowledge of our own appropriations committee members, who have had long experience dealing with the budgets of all the agencies and departments."

"Naturally, I can't reveal the identity of the top officers in the army-navy who told us how and where to make reductions in military spending. I don't want to see these men get their heads cut off."

"But I can tell you," continued the hard-working congressman from Illinois, "that some pretty high brass agrees with our conclusions. And we are convinced, based on what these people told us, that our recommendations will not in any way endanger national security."

However, this argument cut no ice with So. Dakota's army-worshipping Gurney, who persisted in his stand that the armed services be excepted from the economy drive. The split in GOP ranks led by the South Dakota senator drew a sharp tongue-lashing from Republican congressman Ben Jensen of Iowa.

Pointing his finger at the senate insurgents, Jensen exploded:

"You loose spenders better get your house in order. You better go back home and find out what the people are thinking. Before we begin worrying about an attack by Russia, we ought to think about getting the home front straightened out first and put our house in order."

Note — Though the congressional reorganization act provides that budget and other important committee hearings be open to the public, the above debate was secret and behind closed doors.

Capital Chaff

It hasn't leaked out, but Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt was recommended for a permanent reserve commission by the army reserve officers commissioning board, headed by Lieut. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle. But when President Truman sent the nominations to the senate last week, Elliott's name was omitted. On the list, however, were several GOP opponents of the Roosevelts, particularly former Maj. Gen. Pat Hurley, who was nominated by the president for a two-star permanent reserve commission. This is the same Hurley who violently blasted both the president and the state department only a year ago. . . . Former civilian production administration chief Jack Small will succeed former under secretary of war Louis Johnson as president of General Dyestuff Corp. . . . Members of the economy-minded congressional budget committee should have been with the house committee on the armed services when it discussed air power with Gen. Ira Eaker. After explaining just what the air force needs to keep itself abreast of the air arms of other countries, General Eaker told the congressmen, "Remember, gentlemen, a second-best air force is just as good as a second-best poker hand."

Merry-Go-Round

Maury Maverick, ex-congressman from Texas, will probably run for mayor of his old home town, San Antonio. . . . The CIO is opposing the confirmation of Joe Carson, ex-mayor of Portland, as new member of the maritime commission. . . . Former Soviet foreign minister Maxim Litvinov is in poor health in Moscow. He lives in virtual retirement in a big mansion, has several servants, and rides around in a seven-passenger American limousine. Litvinov still is consulted by the Kremlin, but not often. . . . Gael Sullivan, new executive director for the Democrats, will replace Bob Hannagan as Democratic national chairman — after about six months. Sullivan got assurances from President Truman that John Snyder and George Allen wouldn't cut his throat before he took his new job.

HELPS KIDNEYS

Remove Harmful Impurities

Backache, loss of the old pep, getting up nights, and headache are often caused by nothing more than improper kidney action due to excess acid in the urine. The kidneys are one of Nature's ways of removing impurities from the blood. And when these impurities back up, trouble may start.

So if you have these troubles, give your kidneys and bladder a good flushing out by taking Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root. It works on the kidneys to flush them out, increasing the flow of urine to help relieve that excess acidity and ease that burning sensation when you pass water. It helps that bladder irritation that makes you get up nights.

Made of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, and balsams, Swamp-Root is absolutely non-habit forming. Millions have taken it for three generations... often with wonderful results. Caution: take as directed.

For free trial supply, send to Dept. X, Kline & Co., Inc., Box 1255, Stamford, Conn. Or—get full-sized bottle of Swamp-Root today at your druggist.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Trader entertained at a dinner at their farm, Meadow Wood, on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. This was the first of a series of dinners given by the Traders. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Walder, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Griffin, Major General and Mrs. John C. McLaughlin and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Scruton, Jr.

Miss Louise Marie LeBegue, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. LeBegue, No. 8 South Fifth street, Lafayette, Indiana, became the bride of Herman E. Woodall of Sedalia at 3 o'clock, Sunday February 9, at the First Baptist church in Lafayette. The Rev. W. H. Nibbelink, D. D., officiated.

Baskets of gladioli, baby's breath, palms and two seven branch candelabra decorated the altar, which formed the background for the double ring ceremony. Preceding the service, Mr. George E. Osborne, organist, played "Moonlight and Roses" and "Rhapsody of Love" and Marvin Smith, soloist, sang, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" as Mr. Walter P. LeBegue and Mr. Arthur Long lighted the candles.

As the organist played the wedding march, the ushers preceded the ring bearer down the aisle. The little ring bearer, who was Julia Payne, niece of the bride, was dressed in a white floor length dress of marquisette with white satin sash carrying a heart shaped satin pillow edged with white lace and holding the rings. Miss Analee Alcorn, as junior bridesmaid, came next, dressed in pale blue marquisette carrying an arm bouquet of shell pink carnations. Mrs. Winifred LeBegue, sister-in-law of the bride followed as bridesmaid, dressed in an aqua gown carrying an arm bouquet of shell pink carnations. The matron of honor, Mrs. Henry Woodall, sister of the bride, was in pink and carried deep rose carnations.

The bride wore white satin and marquisette, with a short train and a short veil on her head.

AND HIS LEGS WERE TERRIBLE SUNBURNED.

HE ASKED HIS WIFE TO GET SOME UNGUENTINE.

IT WAS THEN HE DISCOVERED HE HAD RUBBED IT WITH MUSTEROLE INSTEAD OF UNGUENTINE.

SO HE TREATED THE SECOND LEG WITH THE UNGUENTINE AND THE STRANGE PART OF IT IS THAT THE LEG ON WHICH HE USED MUSTEROLE HEALED UP PERFECTLY AND QUICKLY.

I THANK YOU

Weidman, pastor, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall were the couples only attendants.

The bride chose as her wedding attire, a gray tailored suit with a corsage of red rose buds.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Slyke are employed at the International Shoe company and are active in church affairs.

Would Work Out Agreement

By Harold W. Ward
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—CIO President Philip Murray today asked congress to "send for" William Green so he and the AFL chief "can work out an agreement" to prevent jurisdictional disputes between unions.

Murray told the senate labor committee: "You get Willie Green down here so he and I can sit down with this committee and work out an agreement right here."

Murray made his suggestion after Senator Morse (R-Ore) demanded that Murray say "what you are going to do about jurisdictional strikes."

Among proposed new labor bills under study by the senate group are bills which would ban jurisdictional strikes. Both the CIO and the AFL are opposing such a law.

In a jurisdictional strike, the dispute is basically between two unions over which has the right to do certain work, or some similar matter.

Legislators proposing to ban them contend such strikes unjustifiably penalize employers and the public.

Murray told Morse, "I know there is no moral justification for jurisdictional strikes."

Collectors Ask Increase

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—(P)—A $300 percent increase in the commission collectors receive for collecting tangible personal property taxes will be sought in the legislature by city fiscal officials it was announced today.

City Collector Richard E. Gruner and Budget Director E. G. Schubkegel are backing a proposal to increase the commission rate from one-half of one percent to two percent.

Gruner said that since the state has taken over collecting taxes on intangible personal property, receipts of the collector's office have been reduced while overhead costs have been little affected.

He said the state, while charging the city two percent for collection of personal taxes on intangible property, permits the collector to take only one half of one percent for collecting tangible property taxes.

Asks Divorce Be Absolute

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 19.—(P)—James H. R. Cromwell, former U. S. minister to Canada, filed suit in chancery court today for an absolute divorce from tobacco heiress Doris Duke.

Charging desertion, Cromwell said he lived in Wheelawken and that the present residence of his former wife was unknown. He added that she was last believed to be in Honolulu.

Cromwell now holds a limited divorce under which neither he nor the one-time "richest girl in the world" can remarry. She in turn has a Reno divorce recognized in every state except New Jersey.

The Cromwells were married Feb. 13, 1935. He charged desertion dating from May, 1940.

In winning his limited divorce in 1945, Cromwell said he had been ousted from the Duke home at Somerville in favor of an unidentified member of the British parliament, that his wife had "humiliated" him while he was minister to Canada and had contributed to his defeat when a Democratic candidate for U. S. senator from New Jersey.

Miss Duke charged extreme cruelty in her Reno divorce action. She is 34 and Cromwell 51.

No 1947 Auto Tag, is Fined

Endeavoring to elude a state highway patrolman because he had not obtained a 1947 license plate for his automobile, resulted in John Robert West, 803 East Broadway, being arrested. Today West appeared before Magistrate William Ilgenfritz and pleaded guilty to charges of not having a 1947 license on his car and was fined $5 and costs.

The arrest of West resulted after he had turned around while driving on the West Main street road and started back toward Sedalia. State Trooper Pete Stohr, noted the car and decided to make a check to ascertain if it could be a car involved in a hit-and-run accident.

The trooper did not catch up with West until they reached Wilkerson street and Quincy avenue, where West said he hadn't tried to run away from the trooper, but had not any desire to pass him with the old license. This resulted in his arrest.

Papers Told to Warn Readers

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(P)—Cranston Williams, general manager of the American Newspaper Publisher Association, today advised newspaper publishers to warn their readers that curtailment of size and limitation on the use of paper was possible at any time because of disruption of shipments of newsprint from Canada.

"Publishers must spread out the limited amount available," Williams said, "in order of maintaining reasonable stocks on hand in the city of publication."

"There are not enough box cars in Canada and the U. S. to care for all needs, including priority allocations for grain movements," Williams' warning followed disclosure that some metropolitan dailies through the nation had already cut down normal volume of advertising and anticipated further cuts.

Reports of "desperate" and "critical" shortages of newsprint came from all sections of the country.

Dismissal in Liquor Cases

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Feb. 19.—(P)—Charges of conspiracy to violate liquor laws were dismissed against Mayor Carl Kirmayer and two other Leavenworth men today by U. S. district judge Arthur J. Bellotti. The other two were Andrew Currie and Herbert C. Sharp.

Judge Mellott said he could find nothing in the evidence presented by the government at the federal trial here to show that the three had engaged in a conspiracy to violate the liquor laws. The three were among 11 Leavenworth men charged in the grand jury indictment.

Soon after the judge's action, the defense began its opening arguments for the eight remaining defendants, including Police Chief Roy W. Murray.

Judge Mellott emphasized that Kirmayer was an elected public official and that the court naturally gave careful attention and consideration in weighing evidence pertaining to such a person.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a break-up certain food particles, else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restlessness, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have positively proven that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you get your food for body strength and repair. Don't wait until the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Hal Boyle Learns How to Make Money Fast

HIALEAH RACETRACK, Fla., Feb. 18.—(P)—At the ripe old age of 35 years 11 months and 25 days I have learned a wonderful way to make money.

You go to a place called a racetrack where horses chase each other around like the hands on a clock. You push $5 through a little iron grill, tell the man what horse you have decided will win. Then you come back later and the man gives you more money than you put down.

How long has this been going on? Why doesn't everybody get rich? It's so simple.

I had never seen a horserace in my life until I came here to Florida last week. I went out to Hialeah with a couple of friends and the suggestion was made that I might enjoy the affair more if I invested some capital in it.

The sixth race was the main event—the McLennan handicap—and the fastest horse was to get $25,000 worth of hay. I asked a character in a sky blue suit holding a nearby fence with one hand, which horse would come in first, and he said:

A Generous Man
"Put $5 on the nose for 'Armed' and you won't have to walk home."

Well, he certainly was a generous man and me a complete stranger to him, too.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT
Sedalia, Mo., Wednesday,

Just to be certain I looked over the horses as they were led around the mounting ring. This Armed looked all right. He isn't a very big horse, but he has a deep chest and a long flowing black tail which he likes to wave in the other horses' faces. He isn't in the least stuck-up. I saw him nod to one man in the crowd who had assured him of his support.

I rushed over to the window and laid down my $5 and was told that as soon as Armed finished winning the race I would probably get $9 back—if too many people didn't find out how good he was and invest in him too.

Not So Bad

Even so I figured that I had won 25 per cent interest on my money in two minutes. This doesn't take into account, of course, the 30 cents spent on refreshments.

But where else can you get a return on capital like that in these times?

Armed has done pretty well for himself. He is only six years old and has won $415,875. Only four other horses in history—and perhaps Shirley Temple—have done better financially at that age. But Shirley had curls and could dance.

As I left the stands I saw a think I had been misled. But coming around the last bend he picked up speed and loped in four lengths ahead of the field.

By the time I got around to collecting my money I learned I would get only $6.25 instead of $9. My big-mouthed friend in the blue suit must have told everybody in the crowd which horse would win.

"He had $35,000 on Armed."

That convinced me. If the financiers are in on it, this horse-racing must be a sound profitable business. I only hope the Securities and Exchange Commission doesn't step in and change the whole picture before I make my pile.

So far I have only made one mistake. I think maybe I should have looked up that man in the blue suit and offered him a partnership. He has sound judgment—even if he did need a shave.

House Approval To Missouri Song

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 19.—(P)—The Missouri House of Representatives gave its stamp of approval Tuesday to a bill providing for an official state song and accepted one entitled "Missouri, the Show Me State" composed by Idele Hillebrand, of Vandavia.

The house voted 63 to 39 to approve the bill sponsored by Georgia Daniel Irving (D) of Audrain county. A chorus of school children sang the song for the representatives to prove that it was adaptable to all voice ranges.

A similar bill approving the "Missouri Waltz" for a state song was passed by the house in the last assembly but died in the senate.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Definition of Our Town

Somebody defined our town just the other day as "A place where the people talk about you behind your back, and come to wait on you when you're sick."

I've got to admit there's something to it. A lot of our folks are inclined to be pretty outspoken and quick to criticize... even about little things, like a woman's hat, or a man's preference for a glass of beer, or the color of Cy Hartman's new barn.

But when anyone's in trouble, those differences and points of criticism are forgotten... and folks become neighborly and helpful, like they really are.

From where I sit, criticism never did much harm to anybody, so long as folks don't let it guide their actions... so long as they respect our individual preferences, whether they apply to hats or beer. That's the way it is in our town, anyway, and I hope that it's the same in yours.

Davis Loses To Christy Tuesday Night

O'Connor Wins His Match Against The Favorite Becker

"Wee Willie" Davis, wrestling movie star, Tuesday night let his temper get the best of him and he lost his match to Vic Christy, lanky-rangy boy from Van Nuys, California. George Becker, Oakland, California, was also on the losing end, when Donnie Connor, Boston, Mass., took the semi-wind-up match.

"Wild Bill" Bartush, lost his match in the special event to Jack Kennedy, Dallas, Texas, the boy from Texas giving the heavy weight from Chicago a real upset in his first appearance here in several months.

Davis in his match lost his temper when the referee warned him about the strangle hold. Davis declared he didn't have it, and turned on the referee choking him. Davis was disqualified for the fall and Christy had the one-half edge in 17 minutes. In the second fall period, after Davis had roughed Christy up, the giant from Hollywood threw Christy against the ropes with the thought of butting him, but instead Christy came out of the ropes with the flying scissors and won the match in nine minutes and 30 seconds.

O'Connor won the first and third falls of the semi-windup from Becker. The first fall went to Connor using the Boston crab hold in 13 minutes and 45 seconds. Becker took the next using a series of flying tackles and body press in seven minutes and 25 seconds of the third fall.

Kennedy and Bartush roughed it up in the opener, with Kennedy resorting to flying tackles and body press to win the fall in 13 minutes and 40 seconds.

Due to the falling off of the crowd, there was some discussion as to whether to continue in Sedalia. However, Promoter Gus Karras, said he will determine a decision on the proposition the last of the week. Karras is trying to obtain a team match for next Tuesday in an endeavor to increase the interest in wrestling and bring to Sedalia strong competition.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Feb. 19—(P)—The North Atlantic league turned up with the batting champion of minor league baseball and a pitcher who won 22 games without a defeat last season and couldn't sell either one into faster company — not even for the $700 draft price to Class "C"...

Walter Forwood hit .406, the year's highest mark in organized ball, for the Carbondale, Pa., club and 22-year-old Tony Napoles of Peekskill, N. Y., pitched 18 straight victories during the regular season and four in the playoffs to beat by one game the minors' consecutive-win streak set by Baxter Sparks of Yazoo City, Miss., in the Delta league in 1904. Another record was made in the North Atlantic when Walden, N. Y., lost 50 of its last 52 games. That's the kind of thing that makes you understand why the Dodgers' minor league operations went $100,000 into the red last year.

Rabbit Ears

A couple of American hockey league referees, Charley (Rabbit) McVeigh and Bernie Le Maitre, were walking near New York's Madison Square Garden recently. Bernie was talking loudly to McVeigh, whose hearing has been impaired since World War One. As they passed an Eighth Avenue belle in a ratty fur coat, Le Maitre was saying, "Now look, Rabbit." The damsel indignantly confronted the amazed pair and shouted: "Rabbit my eye; it's mink."

Sports Before Your Eyes

What's this story that the Chicago Rockets are getting ready to shift their All America football franchise to Milwaukee?

The Oklahoma high school A. A. is planning to add a state baseball championship for about 300 teams to its list of tournaments.

Harold Gensichen, western Michigan basketball ace, has passed the 1000 point mark for his three seasons of college competition. But he's nowhere near Joe Fuks. Walter Barbare, who played for the Indians, Pirates and Braves then finished out a 25-year pro career as an umpire, still can't get away from baseball. He'll coach the American Legion junior team at Greenville, S. C., this season.

End of the Line

Twelve year old Janet Brandenburg, daughter of a former Yale track captain, took up swimming less than a year ago. Last Saturday in her first real competition, she swam the 100 yards free style in 1:07 to win the Connecticut AAU championship.

The Doctor Says

Report Any Cancer Symptom at Once

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

The education committee of the American Cancer Society recently announced a set of abbreviated cancer danger signals. Everyone should memorize these signs and symptoms:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
 2. Any lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
 3. Any change in a wart or mole.
 4. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
 5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
 6. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
 7. Any change in bowel habits.
- In its earliest stages cancer produces no signs or symptoms. Only through examination of apparently well persons can its presence be detected before symptoms appear.

Pain is seldom a sign of beginning cancer and the patient should not wait until pain develops before reporting to a physician.

In order to shorten the time between the development of symptoms and the start of medical care, the American Cancer Society urges the public to act promptly in every instance. Warning signs may result from a serious condition.

Sores or ulcers caused by cancer fail to heal because growth continues until the cancer cells are destroyed or removed from the body. A lump or thickening in the breast results from the local growth of cancer cells into surrounding tissues and the development of scar tissue to resist their invasion.

Watch Warts' Growth
Warts and moles may be present for a long time without showing any change, but the fact that they suddenly start to grow indicates that they are now cancerous.

Cancers of the stomach cause distress in the abdomen. As indigestion is always a symptom, it should be investigated to determine the cause.

There are several causes of persistent hoarseness or cough, but one of them is cancer of the larynx or lungs. In the former, local examination will usually suffice; in the latter, special X-ray and other examinations are advisable.

Unusual bleeding or discharge from the body orifice may result from an ulcerated cancer. Change in bowel habit follows development of growths in the wall of the intestines.

QUESTION: Are hair tonics of value for the hair?
ANSWER: No. Many of them contain alcohol which removes excessive grease, but the scalp massage employed in applying the tonic is probably their only value.

About 103,000 railroad freight cars built in the United States were sent overseas during World War II for war service.

NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Leni goes to New York. Papa and Mama move out to Parker's farm as caretakers. On the day she is to leave the hospital after her baby, Ellen, is born, Cassie learns that Parker's machine works will not reopen because of "insufficient funds."

XVI

THERE were consultations every evening in the library once again. Not with engineers and promotion men this time, but with lawyers.

Cassie overheard things. "If you hadn't let them turn that deal on you at the bank, Parker. Your father would have made short work of that."

"Look, Parker, here's an obligation you can 'squeeze out of legally!'"

Parker's voice, low, embarrassed, saying "I'd rather see the thing through, all the way. If I can save the farm out of the whole smashup I'll be satisfied. I've been a sucker. I can see that."

Cassie thought of the expensive gifts Parker had showered on her so recently, the money wasted on flowers, the enormous expense of Sid in the Academy in Florida, the money she had spent too, on the house, as though it were water pouring from an everlasting spring.

Giving up the house on the hill, seeing all his mother's lovely things going on the auction block, trying to keep her balance in the shifting sands of such an enormous change, wasn't half so disturbing to Cassie as Parker's attitude, his dejection, and bewilderment, and unending silence.

She couldn't find out exactly where they stood financially in the light of his evasions and silence.

THE ways and habits of Carson street had followed Mama to the farm. The sink was always full of dirty dishes, and half the time there were dirty cups and saucers on the table, where she and Papa had had a snack.

Cassie had the baby to care for, an endless round of feedings, and diaper washing, and naps and airings.

Dust lay in rolls under the unmade beds and over the furniture. Mama creaked around laboriously, complaining of not feeling well, that her feet hurt, the range didn't draw like the one on Carson street, the farm was too far away from any neighbors!

Cassie still felt weak, but someone had to take hold and bring some order out of the confusion. She set aside one of the small bedrooms for a nursery, bought a small heater for it, scrubbed the floors, persuaded Papa to put on fresh wall paper, and installed the nursery furniture saved from the house on the hill. The rest of the house could wait, but Ellen must be cared for right.

And one day she cornered Parker. She had built a fire in the living room fireplace, so that they could have some privacy. Mama and Papa never budged from the warmth of the kitchen.

"Parker, let's get things straightened out. How much money have we got, exactly? I mean—just how many resources have we besides this farm?"

"Not much," he admitted. His eyes had grown like a spaniel's again, morose. His mouth no longer turned up in the quizzical half-amused way. The broad shoulders seemed to droop.

"How much money exactly have we left?"

The fire in the grate cracked and snapped for a second or two. "Five hundred dollars," Parker said at last. "But of course there's the car, and this farm."

"But that's quite a lot!" she cried.

IT wasn't. She was really appalled. It seemed impossible there could be so little when there had been so much. "If I manage right we can live on two hundred a month easily, even with the baby's special formula and the allowance we send Sid. You'll find a job before long."

"Yeah, I'll find a job," Parker? I can't understand why you're so horribly down in the dumps. After all—

"Do you think anyone up town will give me a job after the fiasco I made of the Machine Works? I sank the entire fortune my father left into the thing. They laughed in the bank till their sides split. 'Hamilton's folly,' that's how they speak of it."

"Couldn't you get work in—in one of the plants?"

Parker bridled. "Doing what? What am I good for?"

Cassie didn't answer. She hadn't realized that Parker had such a peculiar brand of pride.

"Well," she said after a moment, "we can manage on a hundred and fifty a month perhaps. Five hundred will last quite a while."

"I bet you're glad you married me!" he said suddenly.

"Oh Parker!" She came to him, where he stood with one elbow leaning on the mantel. She touched his arm, and he cringed.

"All the things I was going to do for you!" he said wildly. He ran a hand through his hair, fiercely. "I was going to make you so happy!"

"But Parker, you have. You—" her mouth shook all at once and a lump of tears rose in her throat.

"The things I was going to do for your family too! I thought I knew how to fix everything up! I knew how to make everybody happy, just like I knew better than Father about opening the Machine Works. It would have been better for both of us if I'd never phoned you that night Leni and Leni were eloping. It didn't accomplish anything, anyway—stopping them that night. He's set her up in an apartment in New York!"

Arkansas Votes Anti-Closed Shop

LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 19—(P)—A bill making the 1944 anti-closed shop constitutional amendment operative was passed 75 to 16 by the Arkansas house Tuesday. The senate already had approved the measure.

The enabling measure carried an emergency clause which would make it effective immediately if signed by the governor.

Governor Laney declined to say whether he would sign or veto the measure but declared:

"I will dispose of the bill the minute it hits my desk."

The measure is expected to reach the governor's office not later than noon tomorrow.

Before approving the bill, the house beat down by a voice vote two amendments proposed by its labor committee which would have specifically exempted persons or organizations engaged in interstate commerce and would have required a declaratory judgment by a "court of record" that persons violating the law were not engaged in interstate commerce.

The last legislature (1945) did not pass an enabling act to the 1944 amendment. Three bills designated to make the amendment operative passed the 1945 senate and another passed the house. However, the two houses failed to concur in a single measure before adjournment.

Objections Filed To Injunction

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 19—(P)—The Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad company filed objections Tuesday to a temporary injunction granted the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters against the road in a recent memorandum opinion of U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves.

A draft of a decree as proposed by the railroad was filed with the objections. The porters had filed a proposed injunction Thursday with no mention of a bond by the porters. The decree proposed today asks a $200,000 bond by the porters.

In the proposed decree is a clause to restrain the brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, co-defendants, from prosecuting M-K-T with claims because the railroad permits porters to inspect cars, test signals, use hand and lamp signals, and couple and uncouple cars. Those duties the railroad contends, were to have been taken over by trainmen under contract.

Judge Reeves' memorandum opinion followed a hearing on a temporary restraining order granted the porters last June shortly before the contract was to go into effect. The controversy grew out of a jurisdictional dispute between trainmen and the porters.

Entertained Home Builders

Mrs. Roy Ragar and Mrs. Allen Kendrick entertained the Home Builders class and their families at the Green Ridge Presbyterian church, Friday evening.

A contributive dinner was served at 8 o'clock.

Decorations in the Valentine motif were used on the dining table and on the small tables at which the guests were seated.

After the dinner games were played. Mrs. Carl Johnson and John Palmer won awards for high score.

Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. J. G. W. Kirschner and daughter, Monna; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ridenour and daughter, Joyce; Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Ack-er, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Weiler and George Downing, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Morrow and daughters, Sarah and Shelby Sue; Mrs. Willie Eckhoff and daughters, Dru and Linda; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boltz, Mrs. Clayton Hoover, Mrs. Royal Ragar, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith and children, Karan and Dwan; Mrs. Bruce McCampbell and daughters, Marjorie and Lar-raine; Mrs. Hubert Adams and daughter, Mona; Miss Grace Still, Mrs. John Palmer and son, Ver-non Palmer, Jeanne Ragar and Jackie Kendrick.

Slight Damage In Collision of Autos

An automobile collision occurred at the corner of Third street and Osage avenue about 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon involving a '46 Chevrolet coach, owned and driven by A. W. Boon, 920 West Fifth street, and a '37 Dodge sedan driven by Charles Berkley of Hughesville. Both cars were going north on Osage avenue. Damage resulted to the left rear and front left fenders of the Chevrolet and on the Dodge the right front and rear fenders and running board were damaged.
